

BLOOD PACT

Game Design Document

By Epic Gamers

Contents

1. Introduction / Overview	4
1.1 High Concept / Game Summary
1.2 Narrative Brief
1.3 Game Objectives / Player Goals & Achievements
1.4 Target Audience & Platform
2. Game Mechanisms	5
2.1 Gameplay Overview
2.2 Player Actions / Controls
2.3 Interface / User Experience
2.4 Voting & Bluffing System
2.5 Mission / Expedition Resolution
2.6 Optional Roles & Hidden Identities
2.7 Endgame Conditions
3. Game Elements	7
3.1 Characters
3.1.1 Church Side
3.1.2 Vampire Side
3.1.3 Special Roles (Church Leader, Vampire Hunter)
3.2 Game Components
3.2.1 Character Cards
3.2.2 Mission Cards
3.2.3 Voting Tokens
3.2.4 3D Printed Board / Tracking Pieces
4. Story Overview & Plotline	15
4.1 Game Story: The Curse
4.2 Detailed Story Outline by Expedition
4.3 Player Decisions & Social Deduction Flow
4.4 Character Scripts / Dialogue

5. Game Progression	17
5.1 Player Goals and Achievements
5.2 Mission / Expedition Progression
5.3 Tracking Missions, Voting, and Success/Failure Outcomes
5.4 Replay ability / Variants (Loyalty Cards)
6. Playtesting & Feedback	18
6.1 First Playable
6.2 Second Playtest (Class Group)
6.3 Key Takeaways
6.4 Player Ratings
7. Technical Development	18
7.1 Tools Used (Procreate, 3D Printing, Photoshop, etc.)
7.2 Prototyping & Production Notes
7.3 Component Specifications
8. Team Contributions & Credits	19
• Roles and responsibilities
• Prototype development credits
9. Production Notes	20
11.1 Saving Games / Setup Instructions
11.2 Versioning & Updates
11.3 Risk Analysis / Age Recommendations

1. Introduction / Overview

1.1 High Concept / Game Summary

Blood Pact is a social deduction game, a retheming of The Resistance: Avalon by Don Eskridge and heavily inspired from Mafia and Coup (Board Game). The game sets the Good's loyalists against the Vampire (Betrayal) collaborators. Players secretly take roles and must deduce alliances while completing missions.

Genre: Social deduction, hidden role board game

Players: 5–10

Rounds: 5 missions

Platform: Physical board/card game

1.2 Narrative Brief

Corven Hollow was once a peaceful, blessed valley until locals went missing. A little later, bodies started appearing lifeless, and rumors of vampires spread quickly. In response, the Church sends a team to investigate the mystery. But not everyone on that team can be trusted. Some members carry a hidden curse and secretly serve the darkness. As doubt increases and danger closes in, every mission becomes a test of trust: who is truly loyal, and who is quietly leading the group toward disaster?

1.3 Game Objectives / Player Goals

Church (Good Side) Goals:

- Accomplish 3 missions.
- Make sure the Church Leader stays hidden.

Vampire (Betrayal) Goals:

- Sabotage missions to create 3 failures.
- Correctly guess the Church Leader after 3 failed missions.
- If 5 team proposals in a row are rejected, the Vampires automatically win.

Player Achievements:

- Successfully deceive other players.
- Deduce others' roles.
- Make it through the mission.

1.4 Target Audience & Platform

Target Audience:

- For players 15 years and up because the game involves social deduction and strategy.
- Best for 5–10 players per session.
- Perfect for players who enjoy bluffing, teamwork, and logical reasoning.

Platform:

- A physical board game played in person.
- Includes cards, tokens, and a 3D printed board.
- No digital components needed, though you can add music for extra atmosphere.

2. Game Mechanisms

2.1 Gameplay Overview

- Rounds: 5 missions
- Phases per Round:
 - a. Team Formation
 - b. Voting
 - c. Mission Resolution
 - d. Reveal Results
 - e. Tracking & Scoring
- Team Formation Chart

Round	5Players	6Players	7Players	8Players	9Players	10Players
1	2	2	2	3	3	3

2	3	3	3	4	4	4
3	2	4	3	4	4	4
4	3	3	4*	5*	5*	5*
5	3	4	4	5	5	5

* In these rounds, 2 Fail cards are required for the mission to fail.

2.2 Player Actions / Controls

Select a Team: The game starts with a randomly chosen Leader like using a die, a card, or any method the group prefers. After that, the Leader selects who will go on the mission. For the next round, the next player clockwise becomes the next Leader.

Vote: All the players vote Yes or No to approve or reject the chosen team.

Play Mission Cards: If you are on mission, anonymously choose a success or fail card.

Discuss and Bluff: Players may hint, mislead, or bluff to protect their team or disguise their identity.

2.3 Interface / User Experience

- Physical cards, tokens, and 3D printed board.
- Quick reference for roles, voting, and mission rules.
- Optional Vampire Hunter Card.

2.4 Voting & Bluffing System

- Core social deduction mechanic.
- Players vote strategically while hiding their identity.
- 5 consecutive rejected team proposals → Vampire victory.

2.5 Mission / Expedition Resolution

- Team plays Mission Cards secretly:
 - Church: Success (Green)
 - Vampires: Success (Green) or Fail (Red)
- Reveal cards:
 - All Success → mission succeeds
 - Any Fail → mission fails
 - Certain rounds may require 2 Fail cards

2.6 Optional Roles & Hidden Identities

- Optional: Vampire Hunter Card
- Adds bluffing and complexity
- Does not change main victory conditions

2.7 Endgame Conditions

- First side to reach 3 mission results wins
- If Church reaches 3 successes, Vampires get one chance to identify the Church Leader
 - Correct → Vampire victory
 - Incorrect → Church victory

3. Game Elements

3.1 Characters

Church Side:

- Church Leader (knows Vampires)
- Civilians

Vampire Side:

- Vampires (3 hidden saboteurs)

Special Roles:

- Vampire Hunter (fragmented knowledge)

3.2 Game Components

- Character Cards (10)

Cardinal Alaric, The Head of the Church card

Agent Sylus Grey, Vampire Hunter Card

Lady Verena Duskmoor, Vampire Card

Miss Isadora, Vampire Card

Lord Thorne, Vampire Card

Inspector, Civilian Card

Blacksmith, Civilian Card

Socialite, Civilian Card

School Teacher, Civilian Card

Gravedigger, Civilian Card

- Mission Cards (10, Green/Red)

- Voting Tokens (Yes/No)

Players use the same Mission Cards to vote.

Green = Yes / Approve, Red = No / Reject.

- Round Winner Tracker pieces (6)

- 3D Printed Board (Vampire Castle & Church of Light)

4. Story Overview & Plotline

4.1 Game Story: The Curse

-Long ago, nestled deep in the heart of the forgotten continent of Mystara, a hidden valley was discovered: Corven Hollow. This place was once said to be the final resting place of an Ancient evil, sealed away by the Church of Light over a thousand years ago. But now, something is stirring...

-Strange howls echo through the forest at night, locals disappear without a trace, livestock are found drained, their bodies cold and pale. An urgent message arrives at the High Cathedral. The Church assembles a sacred expedition to investigate the ruins and contain the threat. Among this group of explorers, however, 3 cursed souls have already succumbed to the darkness... THEY ARE VAMPIRES! Turned by the ancient evil sealed beneath Corven Hollow. They move in secret, aiming to weaken the group, sabotage the holy mission and awaken the Ancient One.

-Only the Head of the Church, armed with a divine vision, knows the faces of two of these creatures. But his power is not perfect, and he cannot reveal himself openly without risking death. Somewhere among the group also walks a Vampire Hunter, blessed with fragmented knowledge: he has seen one vampire and the Church Leader but cannot tell which is which.

-As the party moves through the 6 sacred locations, they must decide who to trust. Each expedition could bring salvation... or doom. The fate of the world teeters on the edge of night.

4.2 Detailed Story Outline by Expedition

- Mission 1: Investigation of Corven Hollow outskirts
- Mission 2: Forest path, first signs of vampires
- Mission 3: Ruins of Ancient Temple
- Mission 4: Sacred Cavern, vampire activity intensifies
- Mission 5: Inner Chamber, confrontation

4.3 Player Decisions & Social Deduction Flow

Players decide who to trust and who goes on each mission. Bluffing and hinting keep everyone guessing. Each round, players:

- Discuss who should join the mission.
- Vote to approve or reject the team.
- Observe the mission outcome and adjust their strategy.
- Decisions build tension as players try to figure out hidden roles while protecting their own.

4.4 Character Scripts / Dialogue

Players can speak freely to influence others, reveal information, or bluff. Characters do not have scripted lines, but their role gives context for how they might act during discussions.

This keeps each game dynamic and different every time.

5. Game Progression

5.1 Player Goals and Achievements

Church players aim to complete three missions. Vampires try to sabotage missions or reveal the Church Leader. Stay smart, stay hidden, and outwit the others.

5.2 Mission / Expedition Progression

- The game is played over 5 rounds.
- Each round follows the same steps:
 - a. Leader proposes a team.
 - b. Players vote Yes/No.
 - c. Selected players secretly play Mission Cards.
 - d. Reveal results.
 - e. Track successes and failures.
- Leadership rotates clockwise each round.

5.3 Tracking Missions, Voting, and Outcomes

- Use markers, tokens, and the 3D board to track mission outcomes.
- Keep a visual record of team approvals/rejections and mission success/failures.
- This helps players plan strategies and recall past actions.

5.4 Replay ability

- Adds more bluffing, surprises, and depth to deduction.
- Changing roles, missions, and group dynamics makes each game unique and replay able.

6. Playtesting & Feedback

6.1 First Playable

- Tested the early prototype with a small group.
- Players first did a practice round with all roles visible to learn the rules.
- Then, they played a full game with hidden roles, debating and trying to guess each other's identity.

6.2 Second Playtest

- Played with a different groups in class.
- They all liked the game and found it interesting.

6.3 Key Takeaways

- Clear rules are important for players to start quickly.
- Voting followed by missions creates a simple, easy-to-follow flow.
- The game works best for players 15+ due to its strategic and social deduction elements.
- Physical tokens and cards make voting and tracking missions easier.
- Overall, the balance and tension felt good once players understood the game.

6.4 Player Ratings

Fun: 8 / 10

Difficulty: 4.5 / 10

Strategy / Tactics: 6.5 / 10

7. Technical Development

7.1 Tools Used

- Procreate – for designing character and mission cards.
- 3D Printing – for creating the board, tracking pieces, and custom tokens.
- Other tools as needed for mock-ups and prototypes.

7.2 Prototyping & Production Notes

- Early versions were play tested with paper and temporary tokens.
- Final components were produced with clean card designs and 3D printed board pieces.
- Testing helped refine rules, team sizes, and mission tracking methods.

7.3 Component Specifications

- Cards: Standard playing card size, durable material.
- Board: 3D printed with spaces for tracking missions and team approvals.
- Tokens: Reusable, color coded for voting and mission tracking.

All components are designed to be intuitive and easy to handle during gameplay

8. Team Contributions & Credits

- Kafia – Art Director
 - Drew and illustrated all the character cards for the game.
- Trevor – 3D Designer & Quality Assurance
 - Customizes 3D board and token designs in Tinkercad.
 - Uses dual-color printing to add more detail.
 - Makes sure all pieces work well during playtesting.
- Labib – Idea & Mechanics Director
 - Developed the game mechanics and rules.
 - Helped balance and shape the gameplay.
- Tapinder – Document Director
 - Organized and compiled the game design document.

- Ensured everything is clear and easy to understand.

9. Production Notes

9.1 Setup Instructions

- Shuffle and deal character cards to each player.
- Give each player their vote tokens.
- Select the first Mission Leader at random, for example by rolling a die or drawing a card.
- Place the board and tracking pieces on the table.
- Review roles and special abilities before starting.

9.2 Versioning & Updates

- Keep track of rule updates or component changes for future playtests.
- Note any adjustments to mission sizes, team rules, or special abilities.

9.3 Risk Analysis & Age Recommendations

This game is supposed to be played among people who are above the age of 15 at least. Because it might cause a negative impact on younger audiences and the theme might offend some groups of people.