Expedition Team Formation Chart

Round / Players

	5P	6P	7P	8P	9P	10P
1	2	2	2	3	3	3
2	3	3	3	4	4	4
3	2	4	3	4	4	4
4	3	3	4*	5*	5*	5*
5	3	4	4	5	5	5

* In these rounds, 2 Fail cards are required for the expedition to fail.

Gameplay: The game is played over 5-6 rounds (Expeditions).

- Setup: You'll need 5-10 players. Give each person a Character card (Good or Vampire), special roles indicated on card (Vampire hunter, Church leader or Vampire), give out Yes/No vote tokens, and pick a random player to be the expedition leader for that round.
- Team Formation: The expedition leader proposes a team, and the size depends on the round and the number of players. All players vote yes or no. If it passes, the expedition is undertaken. If the vote is unsuccessful, leadership passes clockwise. If five consecutive proposals are rejected, the Vampire team automatically wins.
- Expedition Resolution: The team reads the assigned Expedition story card, then all selected team players secretly play a mission card. Good loyalists always play Green success, while vampire collaborators may play Success (green) or Fail (red). However, Good loyalists may also put down Fail cards if they wish to purposely sabotage missions (for chaos or roleplay.) Reveal cards, if all players played Success, the expedition succeeds, if there is a Fail (or two in some rounds depending on # of players) then the expedition fails.
- Tracking: Place a round winner marker for Success/Fail. The first side to reach 3 results wins.
- Endgame Twist: If the Good side reaches three successful expeditions, the Assassin makes their move to try and steal victory.

Game Pieces: See below. *Game can be playtested with these pieces as of right now.

- Temporary Role cards
- Vampire castle and Church of Light board pieces
- 2 round winner tracker pieces
